Council To Meet Today On Energy Situation

The Murray City Council will hold an emergency meeting today at three p. m. to discuss the natural gas situation, according to Mayor John Scott.

That decision follows an announcement by the Downtown Merchants Association and stores in local shopping centers that stores in the downtown area and the shopping centers will return to normal business hours, beginning today.

George Hodge, president of the downtown merchants, said today that the majority of the members of the group, which met Thursday afternoon, felt that since the stores in the outlying shopping centers, as well as those in surrounding towns, were back on regular hours, that the downtown merchants should re-open as well. Major stores in the shopping centers went back to regular hours Thursday.

"We are still very conscious of energy conservation," Hodge said. "We all have our thermostats lowered to the point where it is necessary to wear a sweater, and our lighting is cut back as far as possible. We want to cooperate in every way possible in conserving energy, but we still have to serve our customers."

"The energy crisis is not over in any shape, form or fashion," Mayor Scott said, after hearing that local businesses were going back to regular hours.

Scott added that he will present the situation to the city council today, and ask for their recommendations on what to do in the event the city is faced with penalties for gas overruns.

Scott said that he had hoped that the businesses would remain on the limited schedule as long as Governor Carroll's emergency declaration was in effect.

Russell Dowdy, owner of Uncle Jeff's Discount Store, said today that the decision by the shopping centers to return to regular hours was made because, "We're not using any more energy when we're open than when we're closed."

Dowdy noted that the thermostats in the stores are cut back to 55 degrees, that employees are wearing extra clothing, and that 50 per cent of the lighting is turned off.

"We're doing our part to conserve energy," Dowdy said, "but we still have to serve our customers."

"We just want to emphasize to the people that we're not using any more energy being open than we would if we were closed."

Fugitive From Henry County Authorities Captured Here

An intensive manhunt Thursday afternoon by local authorities resulted in the arrest of a 19-year old man who had been sought by Tennessee authorities, according to Murray City Police reports.

Officials from the Calloway County Sheriff's Department and the Murray City Police apprehended 19-year old Robert Buie, Jr., in a laundromat in the Bel-Air Shopping Center at 7:15 p. m. last night, after searching for the suspect since before three p. m.

Buie waived extradition and was returned to Tennessee to face charges of auto theft and burglary.

The search here began after Henry County officials pursued Buie into Kentucky after the alleged burglary of a grocery store on Highway 119 in Tennessee, according to official reports.

Buie was also being sought in connection with the alleged theft of an automobile in Carroll County, Tennessee.

The suspect abandoned his vehicle on South Fourth Street, near Gardner's Wrecker Service, and eluded officials until his capture in the Bel-Air Shopping Center.

Decision On Medical Building Expected Soon

A definite decision on a professional office building for physicians, to be located adjacent to the Murray-Calloway County Hospital, should be made this weekend, members of the hospital's board of commissioners were told last night.

Drexel Toland of Drexel Toland and Associates, a consulting firm employed by the hospital, told the board that preliminary talks with local physicians indicated that about two floors in such a building would be occupied by the doctors.

Doctors associated with the Houston-McDevitt Clinic Corp. are to consider the hospital board's proposal for the building at a meeting tonight. Dr. C. C. Lowry, president of the clinic group and a member of the hospital board due to his position as chief of the hospital's medical staff, said he would be able to tell the board this weekend definitely how many of the clinic doctors planned to move into the new facility.

The hospital board adopted an 11-point professional office building "operational policy" that will be presented to the clinic physicians. It was pointed out that the professional office building will be open to any qualified physician regardless of whether or not he is a member of the clinic group.

An application for financing for the new building has been filed with the Farmers Home Administration (FHA). Hospital administrator Stuart Poston told the board that approval of the loan—a five per cent, 40-year loan—is expected in 30 to 60 days.

The building is to be operated on a non-profit basis with all profit from rental of the office spaces going toward retirement of the mortgage. Poston pointed out that FHA would impose no penalty if the hospital paid back the loan ahead of schedule.

When asked by Dr. Lowry, Toland said that rental for the office spaces would be no greater than $7.50 per square foot.

"Unless something unforeseen happens," Toland said, "it will be $7.50 or less."

One point in the operational policy for the new building stipulates that an advisory committee composed of three physicians and three members of the hospital board will oversee the operation of the building as an intermediary for the hospital board.

The policy adopted by the board will allow individual physicians or physicians practicing as a corporate group to operate laboratory facilities within their own offices in the building. It does not provide for the location of a pharmacy in the building, which has been a stumbling block in the negotiations between the board and the clinic doctors during the past 18 months.

Hospital board chairman James E. Garrison offered the board's position on a pharmacy by saying:

"If and when it's determined that a pharmacy should be put in the building; that the interests of the patients and the interests of the community dictate that we put a pharmacy there, then I think, one, the pharmacy will be on a bid basis, open to anybody and everybody, and, two, revenues generated from that pharmacy will apply toward paying off the building or reducing the rents."

Garrison said that the board wants to keep the unit absolutely independent for anybody that wants to come.

"If any doctor wants to come there and join the clinic (Houston-McDevitt Corp.) and practice medicine as a member of the clinic, that's up to him and the clinic," Garrison said. "By the same token," Garrison added, "if he wants to come there as an independent doctor, or with another group practice or a partnership...however he wants to come...we feel strongly that he be allowed to do so."

In referring to the operational policy adopted by the board at its meeting last night, Poston said:

"I think, as Mr. Toland said, We've made a 360 degree turn...We've had statements and rules and regulations, and regulations to regulate the regulations and it had gotten to the point where negotiations, again, had bogged down somewhat."

"I think that this does give a broad statement of the way the relationship between the hospital and physicians should be if it's going to be a successful venture."

"Basically, what we're looking for is improved health care (for the community) and to provide the facilities that will help us recruit new physicians to this community."

In other business at the meeting, the board elected officers for the coming year. The new officers, who will assume their positions at the April meeting, are Mayor John E. Scott, chairman; Martha Broach, vice-chairman and Harold Hurt, secretary.

Also at the meeting, the board heard a report from the administrator on the current construction program at the hospital. Poston said that the construction is approximately four weeks behind schedule due to inclement weather but that good progress is expected if the weather remains favorable.

Poston also reported that the hospital had a net retained earnings figure of $40,525 for the month of January. Later in the meeting, Poston told the board that the proposed budget would be ready for consideration at the March meeting of the commissioners. The budget reflects an increase of $675,000 over the previous year Poston said.

Garrison pointed out to the board that it would be necessary for the board to consider rate increases in the very near future.

The board also approved the trading-in of the hospital's 1973 station wagon on a new model. Dwain Taylor Chevrolet submitted the low bid on the auto exchange of $4,466.75.

Educator Is Guest Speaker At Civitan Club Meeting Here

Dr. Kyo Jhin, one of the four Outstanding Young Educators of America according to the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Murray Civitan Club last night.

"For a long time, we have been counting what's wrong with America," Dr. Jhin told the Civitans. "It's time we started counting our blessings."

Dr. Jhin spoke on "The Meaning of American Freedom," at the meeting, and drew a standing ovation when he finished.

Special guests at the Civitans meeting were the ministers of various churches in the surrounding area. The local ministers were honored guests at the Civitan Club, which joins other Civitan Clubs around the nation during the month of February in honoring local ministers.

Those who know America like I do would choose to live in America first," the native of Korea told the Civitans. "I had a choice, you didn't, you were born here. But I chose America to live in because it is the greatest nation on earth." Dr. Jhin has been an American citizen since 1966.

"There are six reasons I have chosen to tell you why America is the greatest nation on earth," he said. These included: "America is the most beautiful nation in the world; America is the most scientific nation in the world; America is the wealthiest nation in the world; America is the land of freedom; America is the land of opportunity; and lastly, which Dr. Jhin labeled as the most important, 'America was founded by those who believe in the principles of Christianity.'"

Dr. Jhin, a renowned lecturer all over the world, will fill the pulpit at the University Church of Christ Sunday.

We were hoping she would see her 100th mark. Here is a poem I have written in her memory:

Just a thought of sweet remembrance,
Just a memory fond and true,
Just a token of affection,
And a heart still aches for you.
Often still our hearts do wander,
To a grave not far away,
Where dearest mother was laid,
Just six weeks ago today.

Gardener Accuses Wrong Rose Thief

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I've always gotten along well with my neighbors, but listen to this. The woman next door has a lovely Peace rose bush.

Last June she planned to take a large bouquet to decorate our church, but when she came out early Sunday morning to cut the roses, she discovered that the bush had been stripped!

Meanwhile, guests whom we had for dinner on Saturday night brought me a large bouquet of Peace roses, which I had placed in our front window.

When my neighbor discovered that her roses were gone and she saw the bouquet in my window, she immediately assumed that they were hers, so she rang my doorbell and awakened me. Then she forced her way into my house, took my flowers and said some terrible things to me. I was too shocked and bewildered to respond.

Since then she's been avoiding me, but her husband still talks to my husband. Now it turns out that on the Monday following the episode, another neighbor had come to her to apologize for her preteen daughter, who had sneaked into her yard that Saturday evening and taken her roses!

My neighbor's husband says his wife is too embarrassed and ashamed to face me, and I should swallow my pride, go over there and make up with her.

Abby, I can't forget those shameful things she said to me. I feel terrible about the whole thing, but since she's in the wrong, I think she should come here and apologize to me. How can this be settled so we can be friends again?

ROSE FEVER

DEAR ROSE FEVER: She SHOULD come to you and apologize, but since she hasn't and you want to be friends again, swallow your pride (thorns and all) and make the first move. Be mature. Defer.

DEAR ABBY: I am 12. I told my father to go jump in the lake. We live by a lake, but it is frozen over now, so he should have known I didn't really mean it.

He grounded me indefinitely. How long is "indefinitely?"

GROUNDING IN MINNESOTA

DEAR GROUNDING: It's for as long as it takes your father to cool off. (Apologize and promise to be more respectful, and it may break the ice.)

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 55-year-old Mama's boy who gave his girlfriend an engagement ring in 1970 but does not allow her to show it to anybody because he doesn't want his mother to find out?

Well, I am the girlfriend. I have gone with Arthur for 10 years, and I am pretty sick of this setup. I met his mother just once, when Arthur brought her to the eye doctor. He let me go along for the ride. He never told her I was his girlfriend, though. The problem is, Arthur's mother has money, and she says if he marries, she will leave it all to the church.

He was so confused two years ago he wrote to you, and you told him to talk to his pastor. He said he did, and the pastor told him he was lucky to have such a wonderful mother.

What am I supposed to do now? I am 48 and not getting any younger.

ARTHUR'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Put the ring through Arthur's nose and send him to his mother.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

You may need a little extra push over certain projects now but, with your know-how and good judgment, you should be able to manage nicely.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)

Avoid present tendencies toward recklessness and extravagance. You could regret such actions later.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)

Take a close look at factors which influence your decisions. Try to build a sturdier platform from which to launch a more successful assault on objectives.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)

Fine solar influences encourage your efforts now. Especially favored: business and financial affairs, organizational interests, satisfactory conclusions to complex business negotiations.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

You may count on this to be one of your more memorable days. Look for some unexpectedly pleasant news and recognition for past efforts.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Personal relationships under some restrictions. Keep private matters separate from business activities and you will be less bothered by dispute and turmoil.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Once you have made a decision, back it up with vigorous action. You may run into some opposition, but you can counteract with reason and logic.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Better-than-average aspects but, in general, you will fare better at routine activities than in starting new ventures. Watch the budget!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Mixed influences. Plan to clear up any confusing situations. Security must be built on a solid foundation — not on shifting sands.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

If pleasure-bent, shun risks, unwise involvements. If busy at work, follow a system that will not overtax you. Easy does it — in all things!

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

An auspicious period. If you cooperate smartly, you should not only accomplish much but break through any barriers to new attainment.

Down Concord Way

Inauguration Day Events Discussed by The Writer

By Estelle Spiceland

February 1, 1977

Both presidents, Ford and Carter, were examples of good sportsmanship on Inauguration Day with the one bowing out gracefully and the other thanking him for leaving behind him a legacy of peace.

We just hope that day of good will is symbolic of what the future holds.

The extreme cold which man cannot control caused us to read Job 37:5: "God thundereth marvelously with His voice, great things doeth He, which we cannot comprehend."

Concord is beginning to be Concord again since the Belsons have opened the big store.

But a man we all depended upon when we needed a helping hand, Mr. Kelley Smith, suffered a stroke one cold day, and is a wheelchair patient in his home just now, attended faithfully by family members. We all hope he quickly recovers.

Relatives and friends of Glenith Wisheart are sorry to hear that he is hospitalized after surgery especially since his wife has been a wheelchair patient since having a stroke in January 1971.

It's hard to talk Health as "Dear Abby's" poem advised when so many are sick, just as it would be to order rose bushes (as I did) when people are freezing.

We had never imagined how an energy crisis could affect the world as this has. As a song says: "In times like these we need an anchor."

I did enjoy Lochie Hart's article entitled "Observations." So many of us have had that same experience of "separating the sheep from the goats" when a time comes to empty the attic of all the accumulation of the years and souvenirs of a past which will never pass this way again.

After the death of our parents who had spent almost seventy years together — and reared five children, there was the sad task of emptying the old trunk, boxes of treasured letters and cards, and an old attic of everything from baby shoes to an old half-bed which proved to be much desired when refinished by Mrs. Guy Lovins, and is now used by a great granddaughter, Kelley Lovins.

I found it more painful to destroy without looking the hoard of letters, cards, school papers, and clippings saved over the years, though most of their old belongings now have sentimental value.

But a poem from Edgar A. Guest caught my eye:

"On The Last Day"
"With one more day to live, and only one,
I wonder what great task I'd work upon.
Granted full strength for those fast fleeting hours,
I wonder on what deed I'd spend my powers.
I'd see how cheap are things men strive to claim,
I'd have no vain illusions then of fame,
For that last day allowed on earth to me
I'd be the person I've always wished to be!"

Some people believe that honeysuckle will cure an obsession with the past.

SHOPPING AT SALES

An understanding of the various types of sales will help you take advantage of them. Clearance sales usually offer the biggest price reductions. They are held to sell fashion items that have not moved. Annual sales do not give drastic price reductions. Goods from regular stock are put on sale for a short period of time. Take advantage of these sales for staple items of dress, such as hosiery, underwear, pajamas and accessories. Special purchase sales include items which were reduced on the wholesale market. Look for slight imperfections or lower quality in special purchase merchandise. Many other sales are used to increase the volume of business during slow seasons. If you shop wisely, you may get a bargain at a sale. If a sale garment does not fit right, is not the right color, is of poor quality, or if you don't have anywhere to wear it, it's not a good buy after all. — Judy Hetterman, Hickman.

When a parent dies a child needs someone he knows well to be with him and to tell him the truth. The tears of grownups are not bad for children, and a child should not be sent away or shut out from us with dry-eyed silence. The child needs to be able to talk about the one who has died, in any way he wishes, with those to whom he feels the closest. When he recalls the memories, the unpleasant ones along with the happy ones, it helps him to feel natural and secure. A child needs to see that in spite of grief and uprootedness that death causes, the living take up their lives and go on. — Sue Fraser, Bardwell.

ROOMS WITH "PEOPLE SPACE" When thinking about room arrangement, keep some general space requirements in mind. By following the recommendations, you will have enough space and avoid that crowded-out feeling. Of course, your home may not expand to meet these recommendations. In that case, it will help to make the most of the space you have.

Dining Area - 24" of linear table space per place setting for daily use; 18" per place setting for large crowds; 24" clearance behind each occupied chair at the table; 40" in front of buffet drawers to allow space for opening.

Living or Family Rooms - 24" to 30" for leg room in front of seating pieces; 24" to allow for moving foot stools or hassocks; space for recliners to recline fully and still have space for people to walk past; 30" to 36" in front of a desk or door-type storage such as a television, record player, or sewing machine; 40" in front of a chest or other drawer storage; space to place end tables so the front edges don't extend beyond the edge of chair or sofa.

Smooth-flowing Traffic Lanes have: at least 30" doorways; at least 30" between low pieces of furniture or between the wall and low furniture; at least 36" between two walls; at least 36" between high furniture or a divider and a wall. — Mildred W. Potts, LaCenter.

Plants that are grown in the house during the winter can be moved outdoors for the summer. The best location outdoors for the plants depend on the amount of sunlight they can tolerate. If the plants do well in direct sunlight, they can be set in the open. If they need diffused sunlight, place them under trees or tall shrubs where they will get a mixture of sunshine and shade. If they need subdued daylight, keep the plants on a shady porch. Plants that are kept in pots outdoors need more frequent watering than they do indoors. To maintain plants through the summer with a minimum of care, sink the pots in the ground up to their rims. Lift or twist the pots once a month to prevent the roots from growing through the drainage hole in the pots. Before the nights become uncomfortably cool in autumn, lift the plants and report them if necessary. If they are diseased or infested with insects, do not return them to the house. — Juanita Amonett, Paducah.

Stitching — To keep curved and bias edges (usually necklines, shoulders and waistlines) from stretching out of shape, do a line of regular stitching directionally 1/2 inch from the edge. Stitching also serves as a guide for clipping curves. — Dean Roper, Courthouse, Mayfield.

TOLEDO (Ohio-AP)—A Toledo dentist, Barbara Sawyer, drove to Cleveland for an dental association seminar recently, and got lost in downtown traffic.

She was driving somewhat aimlessly when she spotted a bumper sticker on a car ahead. It said, "Candy is a Halloween Prank."

That message, she reasoned, could only come from a dentist. So Dr. Sawyer followed the automobile and, sure enough, it was a Cleveland dentist going to the same meeting.

Girl Scout Council Needs Our Support

Unless substantial financial support can be obtained during the next few weeks, the Bear Creek Girl Scout Council will be forced to dissolve and to merge its responsibilities and services with another council, officials say.

Repeated pleas for public support and efforts of the Council have produced little aid in the Council's difficulties, according to the council president, Mrs. Charles Jones.

The Council serves approximately 2,400 Girl Scouts in 13 counties of Western Kentucky and Southern Illinois, and if it is forced to dissolve, the impact on the local scouting program may be great.

The financial crisis is the end result of a number of forces bearing on the council during the past few years. These include the increase of salaries of the administrative staff, the increase in the cost of insurance, the increase in the cost of office space which led to the purchase of a new office, and the increase in the size of the staff serving the council in a paid capacity.

Few of these increases were the result of deliberate choice on the part of the council's board members, officials of the organization point out. Salaries were increased to meet federal labor standards. These standards are enforced by the national organization, and the local Council was required to meet them in order to remain in good standing with the Girl Scouts, U.S.A. Additionally, the staff was increased two years ago, again to meet the requirements of the national headquarters.

Insurance costs, which have increased for all professional groups, have also increased significantly for the scout council. The insurance carried by the council is somewhat similar to medical malpractice coverage. It provides protection for the council and the individual scout leaders and other adult workers in the event of an accident involving scouts who are in their care.

Office space had been a problem for the council in years past, administrators said. When faced with a rent increase and an office space cut two years ago, the Board of Directors of the Council elected to purchase a small house for use as council headquarters. This coincided with the increase of the staff size. The new facilities were purchased for $22,000, and paid for out of money the Council had in savings at the time.

General inflation has affected the council's budget in the same way all business and personal finances have been affected, administrators point out.

Funding for the Council is provided through four primary sources: United Fund participation, cookie sales, sustaining membership donations, and community fund drives. All support must be locally derived, directors of the Council stress. No direct financial support is ever received from national headquarters.

The Girl Scout Council is included in the United Fund contributions from Paducah-McCracken County, Mayfield-Graves, Calvert City, Obion County, Ballard County and Massac County, Illinois. These contributions provided approximately $21,000 of the council's operating funds in 1976.

The spring cookie sale provided approximately $22,000 in working funds. Until two years ago, this would have been restricted to use at Camp Bear Creek and to use for direct services to scouts. However, the money now is used as a part of the general fund. The dissolving of the restricted fund was one of the measures taken by the Council's Board of Directors in an effort to meet general expenses.

Sustaining membership donations are contributions made by industry or by individuals who are interested in scouting and in helping the organization function. These funds amounted to approximately $6,000 in 1976. The largest of these contributions was a $500 donation from an area industry.

Community campaigns in Fulton and Murray, and a fund raising dinner in Paducah, brought in another $3,400.

Fees paid by scouts who attend day camps and Camp Bear Creek are used exclusively for food, camp workers, camp programs and other expenses directly connected with the operation of the camps. Council administrators point out that the fees meet about half the cost of the camps, and the balance is paid from the council's general fund.

All Camp Bear Creek maintenance, upgrading and capital expenditure comes from general funds. The camp ranger is considered a full time employee of the council.

Rental of the camp site to approved groups brought in about $600 last year.

Although the Council serves 13 counties, and provides scouting to girls in all these counties, some are not able to contribute in any way to the support of the council. This means that their share of the financial burden must be carried by the communities which do contribute. It has been estimated by the local administrative staff that it costs from $40 to $45 per girl, per year, to provide scouting in the area. The budget for 1977 totals about $88,000, including the cost of conducting Camp Bear Creek.

The last major fund drive by the Council before 1976 was conducted in 1968. Until the past year, industry donations to the Council have been relatively small and few.

The Board of Directors has encouraged the various communities within the area served by Bear Creek Council to enter into fund raising activities and has set suggested goals for the communities based upon the number of girls served. However, not all have responded, Mrs. Jones said.

The Council closed its fiscal year on December 31, 1976, with a deficit of $8,789. This money was taken from savings, virtually eliminating the balance remaining in the old restricted fund.

The Council's executive director, Barney McGill, said this week that the Council can continue to function only until March on the present funds. If the March cookie sale is very successful, the Council may be able to continue through the summer months and to conduct camp for the scouts. If it is not successful, it will be impossible to hold camp, he said. Several improvements at the campsite are required by the national headquarters before June, and the camp will not be allowed to open unless these requirements are met.

Not everyone is aware of the services provided by the Council, Mrs. Jones said.

Besides operating Camp Bear Creek, the council directs the overall operation of the scouting program in the 13-county area, seeing that the regulations and requirements of the national organization are carried out in an approved manner.

Mrs. Jones said the Council's officers and administrative staff are responsible for the selection and training of scout leaders; for maintaining an office and meeting place for any scout business; for the training of specialties leaders who can work with the troops on projects such as ecology and other specific programs; for providing library resource material and program aides, such as slides, films, brochures, slide projector and other material for the use of leaders; for handling all money, with the exception of the individual troop activities funds; for providing immediate help to each of the neighborhoods served, and for raising the money to provide these services.

In addition, the office staff maintains a constant $3,000 inventory of patches, badges, pins for resale to the troops. This allows troop leaders to purchase these items at any time, without waiting. The staff handles from 10,000 to 14,000 separate items in a year's time, according to McGill.

The Council is also responsible for the financial support of all council-wide activities, such as the wider opportunities program, which permits selected scouts to attend national programs; the Girl Scout Olympics; the Cadettes-on-the-Go program; and the Junior Jubilee.

The Council pays the insurance and utilities for the Girl Scout centers in Metropolis and Murray, which are available to any troops in the area for campouts and overnight stays.

If the local Council is merged with another council, probably the Kentuckiana Council at Louisville, much, if not most, of the local control will be gone, but the local communities still will be required to provide the money for scouting if the program is to be maintained, McGill said.

What this would mean to the area is that there might be one member on the board of directors of the new council from this area rather than a local board to direct activities. All training and service would be moved from Paducah to the new council center. The property belonging to the council, including Camp Bear Creek, would revert to the new council or to Girl Scouts, U.S.A., with the local officials having no control of disposition. The local staff would be reduced from six to one or two persons. All patches and other materials would have to be obtained from the new council center, probably in Louisville, according to McGill. Camp Bear Creek would no longer be for the exclusive use of area scouts, who would have to use the camp along with the entire council into which it is absorbed. Most of the solutions to the financial crisis lie with the area residents and depend upon the degree of those interested in the scouting program to continue the work of the Bear Creek Council, Mrs. Jones said.

The council must have financial support in the way of sustaining membership contributions; business people who are trained and experienced in fund raising and management are badly needed to serve as heads of fund drives and as board members; many volunteers are needed to aid in the fund raising projects in all capacities; public support of the cookie sale is vital, Mrs. Jones said.

Other steps open to the council are already being considered. These include reduction of the administrative staff, sale of the office building, and possibly the sale of Camp Bear Creek to an approved group; with the possibility that the scouts could then rent it for camp programs.

Problems are many but with public backing and financial support, Bear Creek Girl Scout Council can stay intact, McGill said.

Power to Transform Life

By H. C. Chiles

Crowds of pilgrims accompanied Christ on His journey to Jerusalem for the last Feast of the Passover before His death. Among the curious masses who wanted to see Christ as He passed through Jericho was a well-known and well-to-do man named Zacchaeus, about whom we shall note four things.

Luke 19:1-10

His Character

Zacchaeus was a Jew by nationality and a publican in position. He thought more of money than he did his nation, the respect of his fellowmen, his soul, or God. He was an extortionist, levying the taxes to the limit, paying the demands of the Roman government, and adding the balance to his personal savings. He was held in contempt by the people.

His Condition

Zacchaeus was small in stature. He was a social outcast. Being a traitor to his country, he was hated by his fellowmen. His ill-gotten riches enabled him to purchase many things, but there were two things which he could not buy: peace with God and true happiness.

Dissatisfied with himself and his way of life, and with a great longing for something better, he resolved that he would go to see Christ, who had just come to town. It was not easy for him to accomplish his purpose because of the multitude surrounding the Saviour and his own smallness of stature. Undaunted by these handicaps and obstacles, he went ahead of the crowd and climbed the famous sycamore tree. That was a very undignified thing for a public official to do, but Zacchaeus was out for something far better than dignity, namely, to see Christ.

His Call

When the Saviour arrived at the tree which Zacchaeus had climbed, He looked up at him and said: "Zacchaeus, make haste, and come down; for today I must abide at thy house." Christ knew his name, nature, position, and thoughts, so the call was quite personal. Knowing that startled Zacchaeus was an outcast, but had a real desire to see the Lord, the Master invited Himself into the home of this great sinner. This is the only known occasion that Christ ever did such a thing.

His Conversion

When Christ singled out Zacchaeus, addressed him by name, and called upon him to minister unto Him, it broke his heart to think that here is One Who sees me, knows me, cares about me, and needs me. He descended the tree swiftly and joyfully received Christ into his home.

Zacchaeus' conviction of sin, unfeigned repentance, reception of Christ, confession of faith in Him, restitution of possessions, joy of heart, and reformation of life were excellent evidences of his genuine conversion and salvation. A terrible grafter had been transformed into a generous giver. A marvelous change was wrought in him, as is true of every person who repents of his sins and receives "the Son of man" Who "is come to seek and to save that which was lost."

Mark 8:34-36

Murray Ledger & Times Editor

The following information is reprinted from "Kentucky Governmental Affairs," a publication of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

The United States government has a gigantic price tag. The proposed budget for fiscal year 1978 calls for outlays — $440 billion. As a historical review, the first $100 billion budget was in 1962, taking 186 years to reach. The first $200 billion budget came in 1971, and it took 9 years to reach. The first $300 billion budget, in 1975, took only 4 years. The first $400 billion budget in 1977 will take just 2 years. What is interesting is the size of the budget is getting bigger quicker. Can the dynamics be broken? It is not at all certain but it could be.

Members of the U. S. Congress and the bureaucrats in Washington have long-distance bosses with little control over them. They seem to view life as a public auction, where they sell public benefits for public votes. Today, just about half of government spending goes for social welfare, or transfer payments, in one form or another. And almost half of the nation's 215 million people receive a significant portion of their income from the government; from social security, government employment, welfare, pensions, food stamps, unemployment benefits, educational benefits, farm subsidies, research grants, and all of the other miscellaneous grants, subsidies and handouts that seem to flow out of Washington. If taken singly, these benefits are moderately alarming. But taken together they point in one direction — the total control of the American people by the government. As government grows, people always lose their freedoms. Big government means more central control — control of the people through employment, control of business through regulation, control of our institutions through absorption or intimidation.

It is not government spending, but overspending that creates our public debt and springs in large measure inflation. Our Founding Fathers had some common sense and knew how to respect a penny. They disliked waste and borrowing at interest. Thomas Jefferson wrote in 1816 that "The greatest danger to be feared is the public debt."

Our republic really had no debt of any consequence until the Civil War. In 1929, the federal debt stood at about $17 billion; by 1949, it was up to $252 billion, and from then on the throttle was wide open. Where do we stand today? President Ford, before leaving office, proposed the budget for the 1978 fiscal year; calling for outlays — $440 billion, receipts — $393 billion, and a deficit — $47 billion more. The deficit would increase the national debt for FY 78 to $785.0 billion. The interest alone on it will be $44.6 billion per year.

Kentucky's share of the federal tax burden for the new budget is $5.4 billion, which comes to $1614 for each man, woman and child living in the state. That is 33 per cent of all that we earn as Kentucky's per capita is $4871. That is high, but just the "interest" alone on the national debt is eight times greater. Overspending and borrowing has made the debt so high that it will take all the federal taxes collected in 21 states next year just to pay the interest — the states of Alaska, Arkansas, Delaware, Hawaii, Idaho, Maine, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, West Virginia, Wyoming and Kentucky.

But the figures given so far do not tell the whole story. When you take into account the Treasury Department's Annual Statement showing total U. S. government liabilities — the whole panorama of federal indebtedness, commitments projected into the future for government employee pensions and social security, for example — the federal debt right now is over $6 trillion. Given that number, Professor John W. Kendrick of George Washington University totaled up the net worth of the American people. He counted all the stocks, bonds, bank accounts, land, buildings, highways, machinery, gold — everything. And, his total is $5.7 trillion. So the total government debt, if it fell due right now, is more than the country's net worth.

We should ask not what we are paying for our government. We should ask what our government is taking from us. For Freedom goes as government grows.

It looks like I won't be able to continue much longer in my job as a secretary because of the amount of reading I have to do. I've heard about a special definition of blindness to qualify for Social Security disability benefits. Can you tell me what it is? F.K.

ANSWER: A person whose vision is no better than 20-200, even with glasses, or who has a limited visual field of 20 degrees or less, is considered "blind" under the Social Security law. Additional information about disability benefits in case of blindness is available at any Social Security office.

HEARTLINE: I am 46 years old and I have one child. My husband recently passed away. I have heard about mother's benefits from Social Security. Can you tell me who is eligible for this? T.O.

ANSWER: If a man retires, becomes disabled or dies and the mother has children in her care (under 18), and she is not yet old enough to draw wife's benefits (62) or widow's benefits (60, 50 if disabled), the mother would be eligible to draw mother's benefits from her husband's account until the youngest child turns 18.

Mother's benefits may also be paid if a child, regardless of actual age, is under a disability which began before the child reached 22 and the child is in her care.

Let's Stay Well

Controlling Blood Pressure

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Q: Mr. T.H. asks why there is currently such an interest in blood pressure. His dentist wanted to take his blood pressure before working on his teeth, and at a nearby pharmacy, he saw a sign offering blood pressure readings as a part of the expanded service to customers.

A: A major campaign has been under way for several years to detect those who have an elevated blood pressure (hypertension). It is estimated that one in every 10 persons (from 20 to 25 million Americans) have the disease and that only about two-thirds of them know it. No test other than measuring the pressure with a cuff will identify elevated pressure. It may be up and produce no symptoms.

High blood pressure often runs in families. It is more common in black males. It is worse when associated with sugar diabetes, heavy smoking, obesity, emotional stress and lack of regular exercise.

Blood pressure is considered to be high when it is higher than 140 (systolic) over 90 (diastolic). Systolic is the time when the heart is pumping out blood, and diastolic is between beats.

The cause of most cases of hypertension is unknown. It probably is related to a constitutional inherited tendency. The walls of the arteries become tight and resist dilating when the heart pumps blood through them.

Once hypertension is present, its tendency persists for the remainder of the person's life, even with treatment. Unfortunately, many people believe that the disease is curable and stop taking medication once it has brought the pressure down to acceptable levels. Blood pressure goes up again when the medicine is discontinued.

A blood pressure instrument may be obtained and used at home to take pressure. A record can be kept to show your physician at the next visit.

Complications of high blood pressure, while they may come on slowly, are serious and consist of heart attack, stroke or kidney failure, if untreated. High blood pressure shortens life and increases disability if pressure is not kept down.

Treatment is effective if taken as prescribed. While the medicines may cause symptoms (diarrhea, sluggishness, depression and impotence) when first started, drugs usually can be adjusted to relieve side effects and lower blood pressure.

Treatment is always a regular, persistent lifetime matter. Copyright 1977 United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

His Prayer for the Nation

His Prayer for The Nation

In his first inaugural address, George Washington asked God "to help him to be a good, successful President."

"Such being the impressions under which I have, in obedience to the public summons, repaired to the present station, it would be particularly improper to omit in this first official act my fervent supplications to that Almighty Being who rules over the universe, who presides in the councils of nations and whose providential acts can supply every human defect: that His benediction may consecrate to the liberties and happiness of the people of the United States a government instituted by themselves for these exalted purposes, and may enable every instrument employed in its administration to execute with success the functions allotted to his charge."

Later in life, he reaffirmed his faith in the wisdom of God by saying: "The will of Heaven is not to be controverted or scrutinized by the children of this world. It therefore becometh the creatures of it to submit to the will of the Creator, whether it be to prolong or to shorten the number of our days, to bless them in health, or afflict them with pain."

DRIVING FOR TWO — Tammy Boone flies down the court and gets ready to fire up two of her 16 points as Susie Imes of the Lakers defends. Behind Boone are Denise Bumphis (5) and Rose Ross (22). Boone's five-foot hook shot with 11 seconds left in the game gave the Tiger girls a 36-35 win over the Lakers.

Boone Sparks Murray To 36-35 Win Over Lakers

By MIKE BRANDON,
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

Remember a few years ago when Murray High and Calloway County used to play before a packed house and the games were classic confrontations that were decided in the last few minutes?

In the past couple of years, a little steam has gone out of the rivalry and the games just haven't been what they used to be.

But the girls? They are a completely different story. For the third time this season, the Laker and Tiger girls matched up on the basketball floor. And in two previous meetings, the teams had split.

Thanks to Tammy Boone, the Tigers took a 36-35 win over the Lakers in Jeffrey Gymnasium Thursday night to take the "rubber" game of the series.

Boone fired in a five-foot hook shot in the middle of the lane with only 11 seconds left.

Signs Contract

ATLANTA (AP) — Free agent pitcher Wayne Granger has signed with the Atlanta Braves, the National League club announced Thursday.

The 33-year-old reliever pitched in 27 games for the Montreal Expos last year, finishing with a 3.66 earned run average. Granger pitched under Braves Manager Dave Bristol at Cincinnati in 1969.

in the game to give Murray High the win. But more important, she scored 10 of her game-high 16 points in the last quarter to bring the Tigers back from a deficit of nine points.

Boone was all over the floor, playing super defense and hitting the boards on both ends of the court. And her shooting was deadly.

"She got hot at the end," Laker coach Marianne Davis said.

"I highly respect Tammy Boone as an All-Region player and possibly even an All-Stater. When you can't stop somebody like that, you're going to get beat," Davis added.

For much of the game, the Lakers had stopped Boone. Going into the last period, Calloway held a 29-21 lead.

And with six minutes left to play, the Lakers led 31-22. Senior forward Mary Ann Littleton hit a five-footer from the right side then Boone countered with a short jumper from in front of the basket and with 4:58 left to play, Calloway led 31-26.

Littleton, who had only four points in the game, then hit another short jumper and it was a three-point game, 31-28 with 4:35 left to go.

Over the next two minutes, Boone hit for six consecutive points and Murray held a 34-31 lead.

With 1:39 left in the frame, the Laker girls finally ended a five-minute scoring drought as Rose Ross hit a free throw to make it 34-32.

Then after the Tigers had missed a free throw, the Lakers tied it at 34 apiece with 1:18 left when Marilyn McKenzie hit two charity tosses.

Murray turned the ball over with 57 seconds left and the Lakers began to work the ball around, running down the clock. And with 24 seconds left, in a wild scramble for a loose ball, Boone fouled Marilyn McKenzie.

McKenzie hit the first free throw but missed the second. She got her own rebound and put up an eight-footer from the front of the bucket but the fall fell short and Tiger center Denise Bumphis rebounded.

Then with 11 seconds left, Boone hit her hook shot and the Tigers led 36-35. By the time the ball had been thrown inbounds, there were only six seconds left.

The Lakers got the ball down the court and Susie Imes, who was completely covered, tried a 10-footer from the left side but the shot was partially deflected as the horn sounded.

"We missed 10 layups in the game," Coach Davis said.

"We were too anxious and at the end, we lost our cool. Felicia Pinner fouled out with about five minutes left in the game and that hurt us.

"But I thought we played better than we have in a long time. I feel like people better watch out for us because we have our old momentum back," Davis added.

In the first half, it was all Rose Ross.

Ross was firing in 15 and 20-footers at will and hitting them too. And while she was hitting the shots, sophomore center Stephanie Wyatt was hitting the boards.

By intermission, Ross had 13 points and the Lakers held a 22-17 lead.

"I felt the key to the whole thing was stopping Ross in the second half," Tiger coach Jane Fitch said.

Ross was able to score only one point in the final two periods.

"She had it her way in the first half. She was hitting up front, from the corners and from everywhere else," Fitch said.

Then in the second half, the Tigers put a box-in-one on Ross and Boone began doing to Calloway in the second half what Ross had done to Murray in the first half.

"Boone was aggressive and of course, she's the type of girl who'll never say die. She'll just keep working until the very end. When she gets started, she picks up her teammates.

"Generally, our team plays pretty much the way Tammy plays," Fitch added.

Boone finished with 16 points and nine rebounds and was the only Tiger in twin digits.

Ross had 14 for the Lakers while Stephanie Wyatt, playing one of her best games of the season, had 10 points.

Calloway outbounded Murray 37-29 with Pinner grabbing 14 and Wyatt 10. Bumphis had six rebounds for Murray.

The Laker girls drop to 10-8 with the loss while Murray now sports a 9-3 season mark.

Both teams will be in action Monday. St. Mary is at Murray High while Fulton County visits Calloway.

HERE, THERE AND EVERYWHERE — That's what Rose Ross was doing Thursday night against Murray High, she was hitting from here, there and everywhere. Ross fired in 13 points in the first half before being held to only one point in the second half as Murray High came from nine points behind to win. Here, Ross gets a secondary rebound.

Regional Finals Tonight???

The finals of the Regional Tournament will be held tonight at the Murray State Sports Arena.

No, you haven't slept through March Madness. But tonight's game between Murray High and Symsonia could well be the final game of the Regional.

Symsonia, barring a major upset, will be in the Regional. Lowes and Mayfield are playing each other in the District and Symsonia should be able to coast into the championship game of the District.

And although Murray High drew the dubious honor of getting the bye in the three-team Fourth District, the Tigers should be able to make it into the Regional.

"I don't really have any idea of how Murray will come out in their District. Nobody will know until after the first night who Murray will be playing," Symsonia coach Don Butler said.

Butler's club is 21-3 on the season. They've lost to Lone Oak in the St. Mary Thanksgiving Tournament, to Tilghman in the Tilghman Invitational, and of course, they lost at Lowes.

In an earlier meeting, the Rough Riders coasted to an easy 87-74 win over Murray High at Symsonia.

Symsonia will be in top shape for tonight as will Murray High.

The Rough Riders will start 6-4 senior James Whittemore in the pivot with 6-2 juniors Mike Jones and Tim Allred starting at forwards.

At guards will be 5-7 senior Mark McManus and 5-6 junior Roger McManus.

Will the fact Murray High has played two games this year on the Sports Arena floor be an advantage for the Tigers?

"I don't think it will be any kind of a disadvantage to us," Butler said.

"There's a lot of difference in a lot of floors and we're not going out with any different attitude. We're just going to try to play it like we normally do, set up and run our plays and try and play good ball."

Keys? "There could be a lot of keys," Butler said.

"Murray plays good defense and most of the time, our defense is strong. I don't think you could really point to one thing as being a key for tonight," Butler added.

Man-for-man, it's going to be quite a show. The guards of Murray High will have a height advantage over the McManus Brothers. But the McManus Brothers didn't let a little mismatch worry them.

They are two of the most aggressive players in the Region. Both are scrappers who dive on the floor and give every ounce of energy during the entire 32 minutes.

Whittemore is an outstanding leaper and Allred is perhaps, the best all-around player in the First Region. Jones, a very aggressive forward, is perhaps one of the most under-estimated players in the Region.

The Rough Riders come into the game ranked first in the poll of coaches. Murray is ranked third.

A win by Symsonia would make them the favorites to cop the Regional championship.

A win by the Tigers will prove Murray is capable of beating anyone in this Region.

From a writer's standpoint, and let's add that a writer who has seen more games than most fans, Symsonia deserves their number one ranking.

Outside of Meridian (southern Illinois' top-rated team), I have not seen a better team anywhere this season. That also includes Christian County.

Symsonia is a well-disciplined ballclub. Talent wise? Nobody really knows if they have that much talent or if Don Butler is just one heck of a coach.

Really, with 5-6 and 5-7 guards, you have to wonder how the Rough Riders can be 21-3.

But at the present time, they are the best team in the Region. Not far behind are Murray, Mayfield and Tilghman.

A bit behind those clubs are Lowes and Lone Oak.

Lone Oak and Tilghman will no doubt be in the Regional. And so will (in all probability) Mayfield and Symsonia. Hickman County and Carlisle County should make it along with Murray High from the Fourth District. It's anybody's guess as to whether it will be Calloway or Marshall County as the second team from this District.

But trying to pick a winner in the Regional for March Madness? I'll stick with February Frugality.

Arizona Survives Scare To Edge Brigham Young

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Vern Thompson's slip was showing. And, oh, was his face red because of it.

While 14,129 fans watched at Provo, Utah, Thompson slipped and lost the ball while moving downcourt.

This mistake led to a basket for 17th-ranked Arizona and a 64-62 Western Athletic Conference loss for Brigham Young.

"BYU had the ballgame won and we took it away from them," said Arizona Coach Fred Snowden. "Thompson's slip in the closing seconds gave us a chance because BYU had a man open under the basket."

As the ball slipped through Thompson's fingers, BYU Coach Frank Arnold could see another game slipping out of his grasp. It was the 13th loss in a dreary season for him.

"What a shame," he said, "what a shame. Ninety-five per-cent of the time, it was a super game for us. When we had a 10-point lead, we made some bad passes. That was the other five per-cent."

The victory kept the Wildcats tied with Utah for the WAC lead, each with 8-2 records. Utah kept pace with a 77-72 triumph over Arizona State.

Elsewhere in college basketball, third-ranked UCLA trimmed Oregon State 89-76, fifth-rated Michigan defeated Iowa 91-80, No. 12 Minnesota stopped Michigan State 99-77, and No. 20 Syracuse crushed Rhode Island 70-47.

A jump shot by Herman Harris with 28 seconds left had tied the score at 62-62 for Arizona. Then Thompson's error allowed the Wildcats to take the game's last shot. Gilbert Myles missed — but Phil Taylor tipped in the ball with eight seconds left, giving Arizona its winning points.

Jeff Judkins' 27 points led Utah over Arizona State. The high scoring of the 6-foot-6 junior helped hold off a late Arizona State rally.

Jim Spillane scored 21 points and Roy Hamilton 18, leading UCLA past Oregon State. Hamilton scored three baskets in the final minutes, helping the Bruins pull away.

Rickey Green, Steve Grote and Dave Baxter combined for 47 points, leading Michigan past Iowa. It was a tight game for the first 12 minutes. Then Michigan broke away, mostly on the shooting of Baxter, for a 45-32 halftime lead.

CO-WINNERS — In the Calloway County Junior High Basketball Tournament last week, an error was discovered after the cheerleading trophy had already been presented to East Calloway, according to county school officials. Eight points were not awarded to the North squad, which would have been enough points to give the cheerleading honors to North. Due to the fact the trophy was presented before the error was discovered, school officials said East will share the honor with North and both will receive trophies. The North cheerleaders are, top row left to right, Donna Swift, Darlene Walker, Celisa Curd and Gina Gargus. Front row, Gina Bynum, Dee Dee Darnell, Mitzi Newsome and Marcia Cunningham.

OVC Indoor Meet To Be Held This Weekend

Murray State doesn't figure to win the Ohio Valley Conference Indoor track championship at Morehead this weekend but Racer coach Bill Cornell thanks his distance men and relays will be among the best in the meet.

The two-day meet, the third indoor championships in the OVC's history, will get underway Friday at 6 p.m. Finals in the high jump, long jump, the distance medley relay, and the three-mile and preliminaries in most of the other events will be held during that session. The concluding session will begin Saturday at 10 a.m.

The Morehead track, in use for the first time this season, is a 167-yard, banked-board oval. The two previous indoor championships were at Middle Tennessee, the only other league member with indoor facilities. Western Kentucky is defending champion.

The Racer distance medley and two-mile relays will likely be favored in the meet. Distance medley runners will be Mitch Johnston, half mile; Dennis Mabbitt, 440; Pat Chimes, three-fourth mile; and Martyn Brewer, mile. Cornell figures the team should better the Murray school record of 9:56.

The two-mile relay team will consist of Tony Keener, Johnston, David Warren, and Mabbitt. The team has the best time in the conference — a 7:36 — which misses qualifying for the national championships by only three seconds.

The mile relay team of Sylvester Onyekwe, Mabbitt, Norman Simms, Chimes, and Steve Crisafulli hasn't run up to par yet this season, according to Cornell.

Other Racer entries and their best times are: High jump: Bill Bradford, 6-8; Axel Leitmayr, 6-8; Three mile: Brian Rutter, 13:40; and Mike Vowell; Pole vault: Norman DeCassini, 14-6; and Keith Fortin, 13-0.

Shot put: Stan Simms, 51-10½; Mile: Brewer, 4:09.1, and Rutter, 4:10.5; 440: Onyekwe and Crisafulli; 60-yard high hurdles: Tom Potter, 9.2; 60-yard dash: Stanford Patrick and Don Manning; 880-yard dash: Chimes, 1:51.8 (relay leg), and Johnston, 1:54.3; 600-yard dash: Simms, Mabbitt, and Crisafulli; 1000-yard run: Warren, 2:12; and Kenner, 2:13.6.

Two-mile run: Brewer, Richard Charleston, and Tim Butt.

Brewer won the Blue-Gray mile in the Mason-Dixon Games last weekend, setting a new Murray record in the process. Shot put: Simms, a freshman, was fifth in the Mason-Dixon, just inches from a new school record. Warren's 1000-yard run of 2:12 is also a school record.

The distance medley relay was first in the Mason-Dixon Games and the two-mile relay was second in the Indiana University Relays.

Racers, 'Toppers Set To Collide Saturday

Murray State's Racers stayed alive in the Ohio Valley Conference championship race by beating East Tennessee 77-72 and Tennessee Tech 79-77 last week but need wins over Western Kentucky and Middle Tennessee this weekend to stay on the heels of Austin Peay.

The Racers, 17-6 overall and 9-2 in the OVC will play Western at Murray Saturday night and Middle Tennessee at Murfreesboro Monday. They beat Western at Bowling Green 89-87 earlier this season and Middle at Murray 71-70. The Racers are now alone in second place in the league since Middle lost at Morehead Monday. Austin Peay, who will be at Murray Feb. 26, is 10-1 and trounced the Racers 90-71 at Clarksville.

Western is 8-15 overall and 4-7 in the OVC after losing at Morehead and winning at Eastern Kentucky last weekend.

Murray Coach Fred Overton says the Hilltoppers are playing as well as anyone in the league just now and that he expects a monumental battle Saturday. "Coach (Jim) Richards has finally got most of his injured players back in action and they've really been tough in their last few games," Overton said. "His teams usually are at their best late in the season, and this one is no exception. We'll have to play exceedingly well to beat them. I expect a lot of trouble from Aaron Bryant and James Johnston and the tough inside game they play. Our defense against inside players has hardly been remarkable."

Bryant, a 6-7 sophomore forward, has averaged 20.5 points and 10.0 rebounds and Johnston, a 6-7 junior center, has averaged 14.8 points and 10.2 rebounds. Johnston missed the earlier Murray-Western game with injuries but Bryant had 24 points and 9 rebounds.

The other Western starters are 6-5 freshman guard Mike Prince, 6-9 sophomore forward Lloyd Terry, and 6-0 junior guard Steve Ashby. Prince has averaged 15.2

points, Terry 9 points and 7.2 rebounds, and Ashby 9 points.

Western has averaged 74.9 points and 42.7 rebounds to opponents' 80.6 points and 43.2 rebounds. The Hilltoppers have hit 46.4 per cent of their field goal attempts. Their opponents have hit 47.9. In the earlier game, the Racers had 52 rebounds and hit 52 per cent from the field. Murray had 45 rebounds and hit 47 per cent.

Murray will likely start 6-5 Mike Muff and 6-4 Zach Blasingame at forward, 6-8 John Randall at center, and 6-8 Grover Woolard and 6-1 Jimmy Warren at guard. Muff has averaged 18.7 points and 8.6 rebounds, Blasingame 11.3 points and 4.5 rebounds, Randall 9.4 points and 6.4 rebounds, Woolard 14.9 points and 4.9 rebounds, and Warren 9.4 points and 2.1 rebounds.

The Racers have averaged 79.2 points and 41.7 rebounds to opponents' 76 points and 38.7 rebounds. They have hit 49 per cent of their field goal attempts.

Middle Tennessee is 17-6 overall and 8-3 in the OVC after beating Eastern Kentucky and losing to Morehead over the weekend. The Raiders, in third place in the league, will play at Austin Peay Saturday.

Vols To Get Crucial Test At Alabama, 'Cats Play At LSU

By ED SHEARER
AP Sports Writer

The three-way scramble for the Southeastern Conference basketball championship hits the crucial stage Saturday when 14th-ranked Tennessee, the league leader by a half-game, visits fourth-ranked Alabama in a regionally televised showdown.

Tennessee enters the 4:10 p.m. EST battle with a 12-1 conference mark and an 18-4 overall record. Alabama is 10-2 in the conference and 19-2 for the year, attempting to reach the 20-victory plateau for the fifth straight season.

Meanwhile, Kentucky, ranked second nationally and the preseason favorite to win its 30th SEC crown, visits Louisiana State Saturday night.

Kentucky currently is second in the conference with an 11-1 mark and matches Alabama's 19-2 season record. The Wildcats will be involved in the two following Saturday telecasts of showdowns among the contenders-taking on Alabama in Lexington next week before visiting Tennessee on March 5.

The only other afternoon game Saturday sends Vanderbilt to Mississippi. In other action, Georgia is at Mississippi State and Auburn goes to Florida.

Tennessee won the initial match of the season against Alabama, a 102-93 decision that stands as the Tide's worst defeat in almost 100 games. However, the Tide has handled the Vols in each of the last four games at Tuscaloosa, including a 93-90 overtime decision a year ago in a dramatic battle that stands as one of the conference's finest television matches ever.

"Alabama knows it needs this one to get back on more or less an even keel as far as the championship race is concerned," said Tennessee Coach Ray Mears.

Coach C. M. Newton, seeking a fourth straight conference title for the Tide, said earlier in the week that his assistant coaches did all the worrying about Tennessee—he just did the worrying about his own team.

"I thought three losses would win or tie for the conference championship," Newton said. "It still may work out that way. I said before the season started that I'd take a 15-3 record and let everybody shoot at it."

That might not happen this time, mainly because each of the contenders won road games at Auburn and Alabama and Kentucky disposed of Florida in Alligator Alley—the only place Tennessee has fallen.

Kentucky got an edge when it upended Alabama in Tuscaloosa, but the Wildcats absorbed their only SEC defeat at home—against Tennessee on Jan. 12. Since then, Kentucky has reeled off 10 consecutive victories.

Braves Present Coach With His First Victory

By The Associated Press
Joe Mullaney of Buffalo is the National Basketball Association's newest success story.

"That's the way to jump from zero to 500 in a hurry," he mused Thursday night after the Braves made his home coaching debut a winning one, beating the Cleveland Cavaliers 112-103.

It was his second game as Buffalo's chairman of the bench. Wednesday night in Philadelphia, the Braves lost to the 76ers.

In Thursday night's other NBA action, Boston edged Kansas City 126-125 in overtime, Houston beat San Antonio 113-99 and Milwaukee nipped Golden State 99-97.

Both Mullaney and Cleveland Coach Bill Fitch acknowledged that a hot-and-cold spell early in the fourth period did in the Cavaliers. They trailed 92-81 when the quarter started, then ran off eight straight points with Campy Russell and Jim Chones hitting two baskets apiece.

Cleveland's next 11 shots were off the mark, however, and the Braves capitalized, widening their lead back to the final margin of nine points.

"They just kept missing and we ended up with the breaks," Mullaney said. Fitch said, "It was feast or famine. We got back in the game, then we managed to miss 11 in a row."

Rookie Adrian Dantley scored 28 points and grabbed 11 rebounds, and Randy Smith had 21 points for the Braves. Russell scored 24 for Cleveland.

Overton Says Western Greatly Improved Team

By The Associated Press

Murray State is chasing Austin Peay in the Ohio Valley Conference basketball championship race, but the Racers need a victory over Western Kentucky Saturday and over Middle Tennessee Monday to narrow the margin.

Murray coach Fred Overton says Western Kentucky, 4-7 in the OVC, has improved.

"Coach (Jim) Richards has finally got most of his injured players back in action and they've really been tough in their last few games," Overton said. "His teams usually are at their best late in the season, and this one is no exception."

The Racers, 9-2 in the OVC, downed Western, 89-87, earlier in the season, but not before the Hilltoppers forced the game into overtime.

"We'll have to play exceptionally well to beat them," Overton said. "I expect a lot of trouble from Aaron Bryant and James Johnston and the tough inside game they play. Our defense against inside players has hardly been remarkable." Bryant ranks second in the conference in scoring with an average of 20.5 per game. Johnson holds the No. 5 spot in field goal percentage, while both Bryant and Johnson are among the league's top five rebounders.

Austin Peay, 10-1 in the conference, travels to Bowling Green, Ky., Monday to face the Hilltoppers after challenging a strong defensive Middle Tennessee team.

The league-leading Governors score more points per game than any other OVC squad, 79.9 per game, but Middle Tennessee allows the fewest points per contest, 67.7.

The Raiders, who sport eight wins in eleven league outings, will be looking to stalwarts Bob Martin, Greg Joyner, "Sleepy" Taylor and Julius Brown to finish the season on a winning note before the OVC playoffs next month.

Meanwhile, Morehead State, with a 7-4 OVC mark, hosts East Tennessee, 4-7, Saturday.

FBI Efforts Pay Off With Dramatic Decline In Number Of Kidnaping Cases

Nationwide efforts by the FBI to put the brakes on kidnaping and extortion cases have paid off with a dramatic decline in the number of kidnaping cases and a sharp increase in convictions for both crimes, FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley reported today.

Kidnaping cases reported to the FBI for investigation dropped 25 per cent in Fiscal Year 1976, compared to Fiscal Year 1975. The ratio of convictions to cases investigated jumped 15 per cent. Recoveries of ransom money amounted to more than $2.6 million, nearly twice that of Fiscal Year 1975. Some 226 kidnaping cases were investigated by the FBI in Fiscal Year 1975, and 170 last fiscal year.

Although the number of extortion cases investigated by the FBI increased by eight per cent in Fiscal Year 1976, convictions in extortion cases, totaling 82, increased by 15 per cent over the previous year, Kelley reported.

"We feel our efforts to alert businessmen and others who are more frequently victims of these crimes contributed to the decline in kidnaping cases reported to us, as well as to the increase in convictions," Kelley said.

"We have been taking positive steps to reduce their vulnerability to these crimes," Kelley said.

These steps included conducting crime resistance-type seminars with businessmen, personal contact with likely victims as well as the distribution of material containing tips on avoiding kidnaping.

Kelley said good teamwork between federal prosecutors and FBI Agents was an important factor in the successful prosecutions.

Kidnaping, with its dire potential for harm to the victim, is a crime which demands top priority of the FBI and other law enforcement agencies, Kelly said. "Regardless of the circumstances which motivate an abductor, the FBI's primary consideration in these investigations is always the safe return of the victim," the FBI Director said.

In one bizarre kidnaping, on July 15, 1976, 26 children and a bus driver vanished at Chowchilla, California. The following day, all the children and the bus driver were located at a quarry near Livermore, California, after they had escaped from a subterranean prison. Cooperative efforts by local authorities and the FBI led to the arrest of three individuals who are now awaiting trial on numerous state charges in California for kidnaping and assault. Earlier in 1976, the son of a Washington, D. C. businessman was abducted at gun-point and held for five days. He was released after a $250,000 ransom was paid in a nearby Maryland community. Once again, cooperative efforts of the FBI and local police culminated in the arrest of 10 persons who were charged in the abduction. An eleventh individual was placed on the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted" fugitives list prior to his apprehension in the Bahamas.

Kelley said many violations of the Federal Extortion Statute involve threats of violence in an effort to intimidate — and thereby to alter the plans and activities of — prominent persons and organizations. Other extortion demands, he said, are motivated by simple greed.

One of the FBI's most intensive investigations of Fiscal Year 1976 involved an attempt to extort $2.3 million from a top industrial official in New York, under threat of death to his son, who had disappeared. Information developed in the investigation led FBI Agents to a New York apartment where two individuals were arrested and the $2.3 million was recovered. The two persons arrested were convicted in state court for grand larceny — extortion.

To illustrate the wide diversity in motivations underlying extortion demands, Kelley said that one such case investigated by the FBI in Fiscal Year 1976, involved an effort to extort $45 million from several major oil companies by threatening to blow up oil company facilities.

Another case involved two female followers of the California-based Manson cult who mailed letters to public and private organizations containing demands pertaining to the protection of the environment. They threatened death to those who failed to comply.

Although three bombs were actually exploded in the extortion attempt against the oil companies, there were no injuries and property damage was minimal. Two men were charged in this crime and await prosecution, according to Director Kelley.

The two Manson cultists were convicted of sending extortionate threats through the U. S. Mails, a practice they allegedly continued even throughout the sentencing phase of their trial.

Huddleston Introduces Emergency Legislation

Sen. Water D. Huddleston (D., Ky.) has introduced legislation in the Senate that would enable federal, state, and local emergency preparedness organizations to better deal with emergencies such as those being caused by severe weather, according to

Curd Named Counsel To State Department, Human Resources

David Wilson Curd was named General Counsel to the Department for Human Resources recently by Human Resources Secretary Peter Conn.

Curd, formerly an administrative assistant in the Office of the Governor, has for the past month been coordinating an evaluation of the human resources department for Conn. He also has represented the Governor's Office in work on a comprehensive child development plan for Kentucky.

As general counsel, Curd will supervise a staff of some 20 attorneys who provide legal advice and assistance in any legal action involving the Department for Human Resources. The general counsel also is chief legal advisor to the secretary.

Secretary Conn said Curd brings "commitment and dedication for the human resources field" to his new post. "David served me in the Governor's Office where I developed considerable respect for his judgment and his capacity for hard work," Conn said.

Curd, 30, is a Kentucky native. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Arizona State University, and a law degree from Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa.

In 1975 he served as attorney to Jefferson County, Ky., government in the areas of housing and community development; program planning and development; consumer protection and public housing.

In 1976 he served as executive director of the Jefferson County Housing and Community Development agency, and later that same year he joined the Governor's staff.

Curd has taught school at the elementary and college level. He lives in Anchorage, Ky.

Robert L. McFerren, deputy director of the state's Division of Disaster and Emergency Services.

Huddleston explained that his bill would provide emergency preparedness planning for both natural and nuclear emergencies.

McFerren had high praise for the legislation, explaining that it would provide clear lines of responsibility in disaster preparedness and response that is currently lacking.

Senate Bill 526 is designed to modernize current legislation enacted in 1950, the senator explained. "The Civil Defense Act of 1950 was conceived in a vastly different atmosphere,"

Huddleston said, "and now we have to better address the problem of the 1970's. We need to become as concerned with the devastation caused by natural disasters as we are with the possibility of nuclear war."

"We are pleased to work with the senator on this bill," McFerren said, "because it provides mechanisms to benefit not only Kentucky but the entire federal program. It can give us much-needed financial assistance in areas that have suffered in the past."

He cited construction of local emergency operators centers and warning systems as examples of programs that would be assisted if the bill becomes law.

"We're every optimistic about the bill," McFerren said, "and we feel that other state emergency preparedness organizations and other legislators will support the bill as they become familiar with it. It certainly enhances the programs of the Defense Civil Preparedness Agency and the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration, the two agencies that are most concerned with our problems."

He said that the bill is particularly appropriate now, as the nation faces natural disasters resulting from the severe winter weather.

McFerren said the bill, if enacted, would assist virtually every Kentucky emergency preparedness organization.

Jackson Browne

When Patty Hearst and Emily Harris were arrested in San Francisco the police found several Jackson Browne records and she herself has declared to be an avid fan of Jackson. Who is Jackson Browne? He is a songwriter whose lyrics have a message and in his latest album "The Pretender," that message is one of parent-child relationship and of death.

The greatest cut on the album is "The Pretender." Not only are the lyrics excellent but so are his vocals and the orchestration and guitars.

"The Only Child" and "Daddy's Tune" deal with parent-child relationships. "The Only Child" leaves us feeling lonely while "Daddy's Tune" advises "Live your life day after day."

"The Face" has great vocals and piano and again gives us another view of life. Another cut that intrigued me was "Sleep's Dark and Silent Gate." This song asks the question of "Where has time gone?"

I recommend this album as far as lyrics are concerned even though the vocals are fair.

George Harrison

It took an unusual lawsuit to bring George Harrison and his latest album "33 and One Third" on the music scene. The unusual thing of the suit was that George was sued for copying a chord grouping from an early song in the early sixties (the name has slipped my mind at the present) with that of "My Sweet Lord" (Harrison's smash in 1971). On top of that Harrison was also sued for not having this LP released in time by A&M records.

It looks like his comeback may be successful especially with the new releases from his album called "Crackerbox Palace" and "This Song." "This Song" was written in protest and as a satire on the lawsuit. It is a great cut, with the vocals of the Mysterious ex-Beatle and great guitars. On the other hand

"Crackerbox Palace," his latest hit single sounds like a warped record.

Other great cuts on the album are "It's What You Value," "True Love" and "Beautiful Girl."

Capsule Reviews
PARLIAMENT — The latest album "The Clones of Dr. Funkenstein" is one of the silliest albums I've heard. It may be great for some people but I think it stinks.

AVERAGE WHITE BAND — This all white soul group has a great 2 LP live album. There are great vocals and instruments. The only hangup is that introductions and the cuts may be a little too long.

Opry Not Only Place To Hear Good Country

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The Grand Ole Opry is not the only place in Nashville to hear good country music.

Drop in sometime at 142 Jefferson Square Apartments for a "guitar pullin'" — an informal session where songwriters perform their recently written tunes for fellow artists.

Often, it's the first time the songs are performed — maybe they aren't recorded yet. It's the industry's version of a sneak preview.

There are no ties, no rules, no frowns at the session. There's camaraderie, beer and songs that will be hits weeks hence.

"It's show and tell time," said Don Gant, who has the sessions in his home. Gant is vice president of Tree International, one of the world's biggest song publishing firms with offices around the world.

Said Red Lane, who has been attending the sessions at various locations for a dozen years, "What you hear here is on the radio eight or 10 weeks later. We used to do this at (Johnny) Cash's. You were on a real hot seat out there. Joni Mitchell used to get so nervous she would throw up."

"The best thing that ever happened to a songwriter is another songwriter," Lane said. "I attend every one of these I can. The stimulation sets off a time bomb in your head. It may not go off for a while, but it's there."

Gant, who has produced Roy Orbison, Sue Thompson, Mickey Newbury, John D. Loudermilk and Don Gibson, agreed.

"It's impossible to get stale if you listen to the people around you. Writers get around something like this and it inspires them."

One of the songwriters who attends the sessions regularly is Rafe VanHoy, who co-wrote the recent George Jones and Tammy Wynette hit "Golden Ring."

"It's a good chance to share your music and have a good time," he said. "I hate for anything to become work."

Lane, who wrote Miss Wynette's "Till I Get It Right," agreed.

"It means a lot to do these songs for your peers. If they like them, the general public should."

One recent evening, Rock Kilbrough and Dan Eckley, two new writers, drew accolades for a composition called "Absentee Fathers."

"That's terrific," Gant told them.

The performance prompted Lane to recall, "I heard Larry Gatlin the third day he was in town. He knocked 'em out."

Gant said the songwriters have been meeting at his house for about eight months.

"I started getting sick of the office so some of us came here. We passed guitars around and pretty soon we began having these sessions on a fairly regular basis."

"It's a relaxed situation without the pressure of the office. It makes the job easier and more pleasant. And you get to know people this way."

"All the people here have lots of talent. Whether they become extremely successful depends on their savvy."

"Italians, Greeks, and others of Mediterranean descent are at increased risk for thalassemia, a severe hereditary blood disorder. A couple can find out from a genetic counselor what their chances are of having an affected child, says the March of Dimes."

ABC Not Planning Separation For Barbara

LOS ANGELES (AP)

Over a year's time, a ratings point at night can earn a TV network at least $1 million, or what Barbara Walters earns anchoring the ABC "Evening News" and doing various specials.

But Bill Sheehan, head of ABC News, gets a bit weary when people keep noting that a one-point hike in ratings for ABC's "Evening News" show can pay a year's salary for Miss Walters — making ratings increases beyond that one point sheer gravy for the network.

"That's not what the whole thing is about," he says. "In the first place, we're not relating the two things" — a rating point and her salary — "in any manner. They just don't go together."

And he says, those who think ABC hired her as a relatively inexpensive way to boost ratings fail to consider that ABC also boosted its 1977 news budget in "many multiples of Barbara Walters' salary" as part of a big push to improve the quality of the network's news operation.

He declined to specify, in cash terms, what those "multiples" come to, but said the matter of the magic ratings point and her salary "isn't something that causes any conversation here at all."

Miss Walters began anchoring the ABC "Evening News" with Harry Reasoner on Oct. 4. How are the show's ratings compared to last year? An A. C. Nielsen official in New York, tallying completed estimates from the start of each season, provided these averages:

From mid-September 1975 through mid-January 1976, the Walters-less show was seen in 7,120,000 homes each week night.

From mid-September through mid-January this year, ABC's program, seen in about 4 million fewer homes than watched the top-rated

CBS "Evening News," still was firmly holding down third place among network news shows.

But it was seen in more than 7.5 million homes, a gain of six-tenths of a ratings point. Sheehan was asked if that's about what he expected to happen.

"Honest to God, I didn't know what to expect," the ABC News chief said by phone from New York. "But I think we're on a steady upward curve — and not dramatic in terms of big percentages — of a perceptible increase in the (audience) levels. And that's what counts."

"You don't turn news audiences around very quickly," he added, meaning a massive shift of viewers to any network's news show. "It doesn't happen that way. Nobody has a quick turnaround."

During the interview, Sheehan denied a report (in the Chicago Daily News) that ABC is considering splitting up its New York-based news anchor team by moving Miss Walters to Washington this spring to coanchor the show while Reasoner stays in Fun City handling his end of it.

"The fact is, we don't have any plans to move her," he said, adding that not even a trial separation is planned.

MORTGAGE INTEREST VS EQUITY
It is true that owning a home builds a dollar-value equity for you as you pay off the mortgage. How much of your monthly payment goes to paying off the principal and how much goes to pay off the interest is another story. The outcome depends on how long you have been making payments. Inasmuch as most mortgages are self-liquidating loans, you will pay a level amount each month toward paying off the interest and reduction of principal. However, remember that the interest is first computed on the balance due and therefore the first payment is practically all interest and last payment is practically all principal. About mid-way during the term of the mortgage, the interest and principal payments are about equal. The one saving grace in the early years of high interest payments is that all of this interest is tax deductible which can be a hefty deduction indeed. Consulting with people about their real estate needs is our specialty. Drop by Purdom & Thurman on the court square or call Pat Mobley 753-4451 or 753-8958. We're here to help!
